DARK WARRIOR

Keep the planetoid's life support system operational by defending the only fuel supply bases against the onslaught of two simultaneous alien air and land attacks, by the Dark Warrior.

The Imperial Federation have successfully landed their Dark Warrior assault forces upon your planetoid surface in an attempt to seek out and destroy the last remaining fuel deposits. The Dark Warrior moves against you under cover from a tortuous aerial attack.

By approaching from the horizon, keeping low down, out of range of your laser guns, the Dark Warrior menacingly approaches. The Dark Warrior mutates to a 50 Meg-ariel mortar bomb – then you have your opportunity – the Dark Warrior can now be destroyed!!

By intercepting its flight path with a laser blast the Warrior breaks up into flying shrapnel which can fall onto your laser gun position, so destroying your only weapon. The aerial attacks are led by a fleet of Vulcan assault craft aimed to keep your laser gun in constant operation. When the Vulcan fleet is destroyed the second assault unit is deployed. The suicidal Hell-spot battalion is called upon to directly take your fire from the Dark Warrior. After two complete aerial task forces have been destroyed the Alien commander brings in his deadly Neutron attack, which is directly guided to annihilate your laser blaster – but your sensor system gives you a verbal warning of the impending attack – heed its words.

When fuel is low you receive verbal warning.

Beware the Dark Warrior is coming.
